DATA_WAREHOUSE_RULES_CONTROL_02022982.sql	Database Script	4.1	02022982	DEV-105602	2	The 'HCAS' rule ('Hold Committed Allocated Stock') can be set for the owner code to enable stock that is committed or allocated to sales orders to switch its held reason code via the EDI process. When 'Y', stock that is committed or allocated to a sales order can be held for the new reason code after being released for the old reason code. When 'N', stock that is committed or allocated to a sales order cannot be held for the new reason code after being released for the old reason code. The customer pallet will be stored for the new held reason code when holding stock not by customer pallet.
