- Select by: - Drop down list that allows the user to select an Order Status (current values include Held, Committed or Pick Confirmed)
- Order Num: - Allows you to enter the number directly or to call a LOV that will display orders at the relevant status dependent on the 'Select by' value

Once the order number has been selected the name and address details will be displayed in the header section, the detail section will display the Product Types for the order and the user can then select a new order status.
